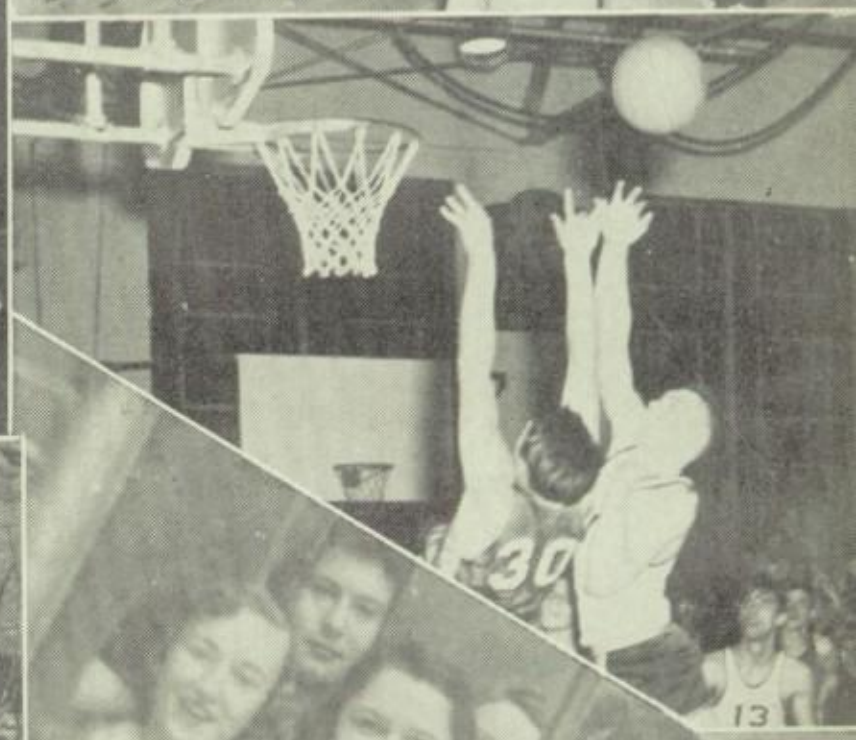
NAME

HND



Our Holy Name Heritage . .

WHY THE SHAMROCKS? Why the green ink? Because both are symbols of our Holy Name heritage! The definitions on the next page explain our choice of theme for the '52 book. — The Editors

The Namer

"I—R—I—S—H—!"

Lil' David's favorite cheer, chanted loudly by McDevitle's, Yeskulsky's, Whittaker's, Bordukadas', Krafts', Bourque's and Iopollo's, proves the one-ness of Holy Name (physical — spiritual—mental) symbolized by the shamrocks scattered throughout this year's annual.

GREEN

The color of Hope, and a symbol of lasting loyalty.

NAMER

A little word with a big and noble meaning.

SPIRIT

Heart-felt gratitude for our HN heritage.

CONFIDENCE

A virtue well instilled in us through training of our minds, souls and bodies.

Foreword . . .

TO REALLY SEE into the depth of Holy Name's heritage and traditions, you must read between the lines of the "Namer." In doing so you not only catch glimpses of students thronging the halls and classrooms of Carroll and Gallagher, but you are aware of something more mature and lasting.

Read the yearbook sympathetically, and you will sense HN's oneness in everything: her strong and loyal spirit; the training of everyone's abilities; activities and classes geared to prepare each student to build his adult life on solid Christian principles. And most typical, perhaps, of Holy Name, you'll notice the prevailing spirit of real faith, a faith which will not be laid aside on Graduation Day, but which will always be nourished, to characterize the typical Namer as his most priceless heritage.

Our Archbishop

HOLY NAME congratulates Archbishop Edward F. Hoban on the honor conferred on him by the Holy Father since the last "Namer" went to press, that of bearing the title of Archbishop of Cleveland.

Archbishop Hoban's frequent presence at Holy Name on special occasions, particularly for the annual Commencement, is a heart-warming proof of his particular interest in the portion of his vineyard which flourshes in old Newburgh town.

A SHEPHERD with a pleasant smile and a firm hand, who has carved for himself a very special place in the heart of each Namer, is Monsignor Charles McDonough.

Friend and advisor to HN students for years, Monsignor McDonough has established a reputation for progressive interested supervision in scholastic achievements and in extra-curricular activities.

Our Pastor

Dedication . .

A NEW CITY, a strange school, and 1100 new faces were awaiting HN's "brand new" principal, Sister Francis Anna, last September. Sister, however, defying the old adage that the first year is always the hardest, stepped right in and assumed the supervision of Cleveland's largest co-educational school for Catholic students.

By introducing many novel and interesting ideas regarding activities and discipline, and by working unswervngly to uphold Christian ideals, she has made the nine months happy and memorable, due to her ability to meet all situations with justice, sympathy and a sparkling smile.

HERE'S AN ORCHID FOR YOU, SISTERS!

LARGELY RESPONSIBLE for the precious heritage of Namers, are Mother Seton's Sisters of Charity from Cincinnati, who through unending patience, understanding, and a heroic degree of charity, transmit the four R's (reading, 'riting, 'rithmetic and religion) to succeeding generations on the Broadway Campus.

Besides their regular duties, the Sisters always have a smile or extra bit of advice for those in need, and are ready to share our sorrows and joys and keep our secrets.

Composing one of the most experienced staffs in the city, HN's Sisters are understanding guides, wise with the wisdom of the Spirit, who never fail to encourage us, scold us, teach us, love us and most important, pray for us!

Although their day is long and hard, they always find time to laugh at our jokes or smile at our enthusiasms. A shining example of virtue and cheerfulness are Little David's Sisters.

Students as well as Sisters eagerly await the construction of the new HN convent which will replace the familiar convent originally built as a farm house. Pictured below is the architect's plan for the new home to be built for the 29 high school Sisters. Because of steel shortage it cannot be said when the work will begin, although Monsignor McDonough hopes to start construction in July.

MEET SOME CAMPUS FAVORITES

HATS OFF to our six lay teachers, who are doing their best to direct HN Students toward that complete Catholic Education which alone results in integrated Christian living.

Proud to be a part of Holy Name, these teachers are true Namers, due to their interest in every Holy Name activity and in every Holy Namer.

THE LITTLEST LITTLE DAVIDS

"FOSTER THE SEED and the growth will be plentiful," is a guiding principle in the minds of HN's elementary teachers.

Above, the Elementary lay teachers: Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Byrne, Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. McMahon. Sisters teaching the littlest Davids are Sister Etheldreda, principal; and Sisters Giovanni, Ruth Marie, Agnes Aquinas, Catherine, Ann Dominic, Leonora, John Christopher, Mary Loretta, Amelia Marie, Eileen Therese, Ann Joachim, and Bernice.

GRADUATION!

"IT'S GRADUATION DAY!" . . . The words linger, and hearts swell as that long-awaited day finally presents itself before us, like a Great Judgment.

GRADUATION!

All the preparation, fuss and fun of the past semester reaches a climax: name cards . . . graduation pictures . . . practice . . . Senior-Junior Prom . . . and the Breakfast.

GRADUATION!

Again we are like small children, stepping into something new—our Future, and we think, "Thanks, O Thanks, Holy Name, for such happy days and memorable moments!"

Our Holy Name Heritage:

Because the war-shadowed years ahead will surely advance more and more serious problems to thinking Christians, development of a sense of Christian responsibility is an important factor in '52 scholastic training.

Learning to uphold their faith and their ideals, to suffer for their principles, and to win others to their standards is the job awaiting leaders of tomorrow. And the student learns early at Holy Name that he "can't give what he hasn't got." He must be thoroughly Christian himself before he can restore the world to Christ.

Debates, discussions, reports, and research work, designed to teach the student to think, and think straight, have a definite part in the everyday scholastic program.

Even those classes which prepare us directly for future jobs, vocations, and careers, are seen from a Christian viewoint and teach the adults of tomorrow to "put first things first."

DON'T BORROW. DON'T EXCUSES.

SOMETHING WORTH SACRIFICING FOR - -

DAILY LESSONS taught by priests, Sisters and lay faculty impress upon first-year students and all Namers that religion is not limited to a 45-minute period but to every acting moment of our lives.

At the right, Dorothy Toth, Elaine Zima, and Al Sforzo, Freshmen in Sister Ann Michael's first year religion group, seem to be concentrating on their lessons for the day.

The Seniors of today face no small problem. A turbulent world awaits them, ready to place its troubles on their shoulders.

However, with 12 years of Christian teachings to light their way, they should leave Holy Name prepared.

Below, Father Karper makes his weekly visit to Sister Rose Alma's homeroom.

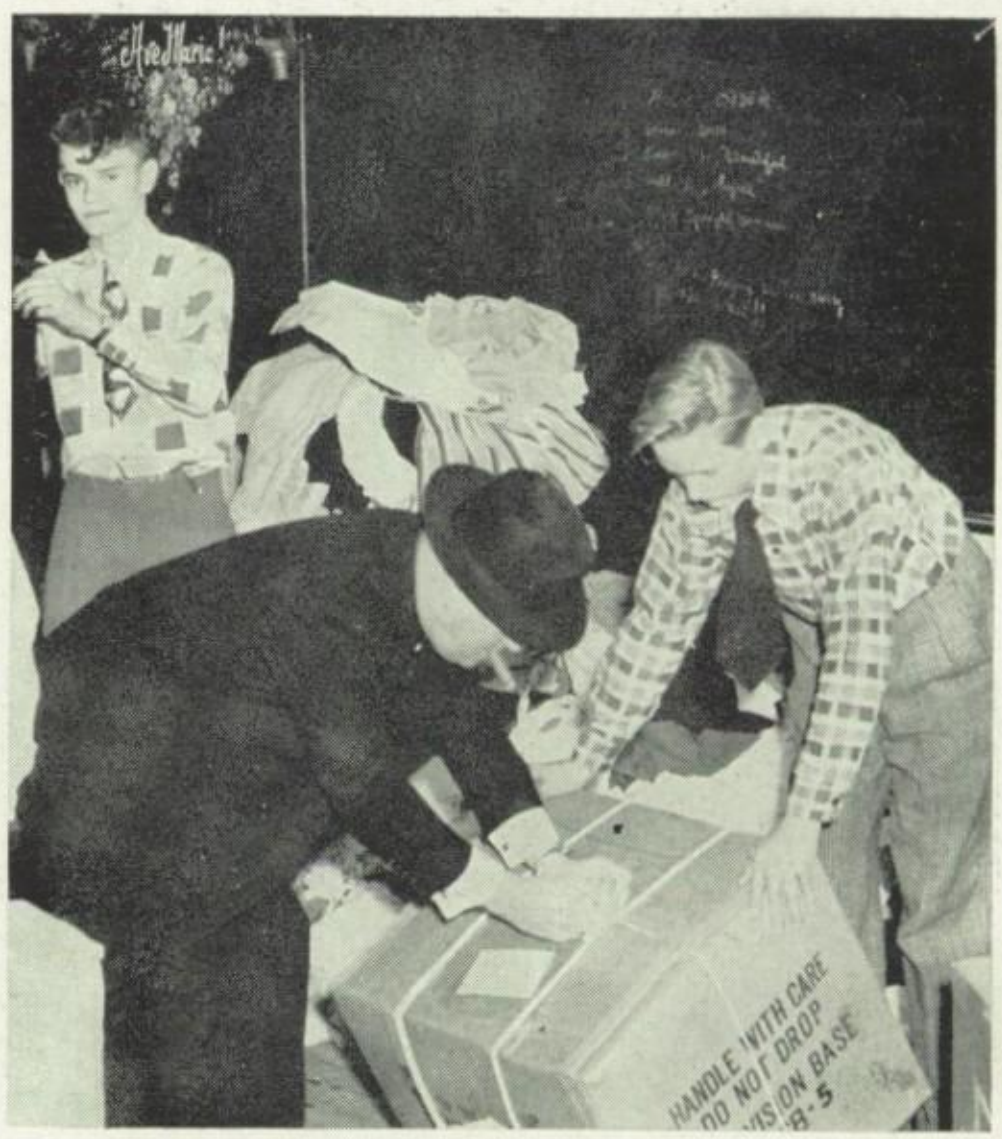
OUR DAILY LESSONS IN RELIGION

ONLY a 24-hour-a-day Christian, one who lives Our Lord's teachings, with all their social, business, political, school and family implications, can take the atomic age standing up, and thrive on it.

Religion class, therefore, is important at Holy Name.

Looking for Catholic Action? Above, Charles Tuhacek, Father McMahon, and Fred Gregory are in the midst of real apostolic labor, wrapping boxes of clothing collected during the Bishops' drive for Europe and Asia. A Junior High religion class in action!

Below, Sister Helen Marie's Religion II class seems to be grasping the difficult lesson for the day—using the objects of the senses, not as ends in themselves but as means of eternal happiness.



THE REALM OF GOOD BOOKS LIES CLOSE

SELF-EXPRESSION is synonymous with English classes at Holy Name. There, dislikes and likes can be expressed openly, and opinions are exchanged.

Talks over teen-age problems teach students to correct distorted views on prejudice and to realize that Christ-like thinking is the best thinking.

Until the student is given adequate help which trains him to discern and evaluate, he runs the risk of being confused by a world deluged with secular ideals.

Once given the principles by which he may judge wisely, he will be better equipped for later life as well as for his today.

TO THE KINGDOM OF GOD . . . READ MORE

IN THE PRESENT day a refrigerator and a mink coat may hang in balance to the answer on a quiz show. Perhaps no HN Senior will ever win these prizes for knowing his fourth year literature, but he will know how to answer more decisive questions with confidence.

Below: English I pupils in Sister Dolores' class do some last-minute dictionary checking. Freshies are Tom Harwood, Edwina Cowie, Leona Pinchak, and Jeannette Volpe.

ONE CAN'T RECITE

IN THE MILL or office, the factory or the store, the ability to defend Christian principles and propagate Christian ideals is a necessity in today's materialistic world.

Left: Senior Bernadine George, who won a certificate for giving speeches to promote the Red Feather Drive.

Bottom: Learning the fundamentals of the different types of speeches are Miss Nugent's Speech II students.

UNLESS HE STUDIES

SPACIOUS and inviting, Scullen Library, below, affords Namers a haven for study and reference.

Shelves upon shelves of fiction, references and pamphlets, and files of pictures and clippings line the walls, encouraging student use, for work or for pleasure reading.

At the right, Mike Turnauckas, official photographer for the Name and "Namer," using his reading habits at home.

WE'RE RESPONSIBLE

ASSUMING the responsibility for the "Voice of the School" with the primary motive of permeating the student body with Christian principles, are the veteran Galley Slaves below.

Left to right, the veterans are Gerry Stibil, Pat Coyle, Ron Hrovat, Loretta McDonnell, Pat Fink.

Peg McGinty, editor-in-chief of the Name.

CO-EDITORS of the "Namer," Seniors Mary Alice Norton and Phyllis Yeskulsky, below, trudge out on their way to the printer's with annual copy.

The work of the two annual editors, begun during the late summer before they returned for their Senior year, is crowned when the book is finally distributed.

FOR PUBLICATIONS

WEBSTER defines journalism as "the collection and publication of current news."

But Christian journalists of '52, including those on the Name, have a prevailing, definite apostolic end in view.

Top: What every cub must know! "Making coffee is vital as writing a squib," say Marlene Hlavin, Rosemary Driscoll, Tom McGinty and Helen Mackey.

"These are the standards that must permeate our writing," explains Rose Annette Powell, center, to Shirley Adams.

Mary Heard, Carol Whitney and Jacqueline Bunch discuss material for Page II.

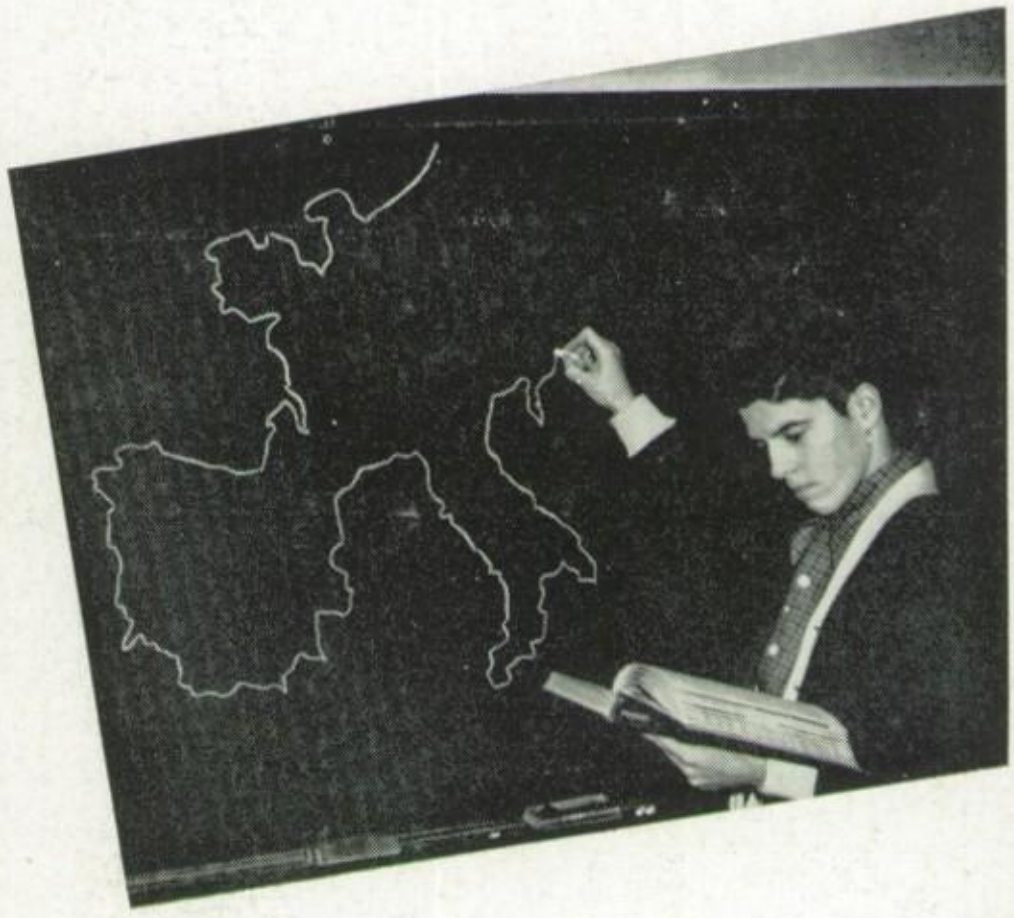
Right: While Galley Slaves Carol Senyitko, Georgianne Woodhall and Rose Zivic decide on page plans for the Name, John Nagel and Richard Gierman peruse exchanges.

SOCIAL SCIENCES . . .



SOCIAL SCIENCES teach us how to value and safeguard our precious heritage of Human Rights and Human Duties, and consequently every Namer has some social studies on his program for three years at least.

Panel, top: Donnette Schwendeman, Pat Beck and Dorothy Kowalics take a last peep at headlines in "The American Observer," before Sister Anne Noreen's American History class.

Middle: Charlotte Sykora, Sergeant Ross, and Don Hicar visiting at the Broadway Police Station where Mr. Heglaw sent the Namers to get first hand information on how the local community is run

Bottom: Bob Barrett, Audrey Horsfall, Eileen Gannon, Frank Lichenstine, and Sarah Gavan examine the civics chart showing the various branches of the government.

LANGUAGE CLASSES TEACH TOLERANCE

TWO-THIRDS of all Namers study some language, enabling them to better appreciate and comprehend their brothers in foreign lands.

Foreign language classes (French, Spanish and Latin) prepare students to understand their world of today, from which radio, television and telephone have eliminated the old borders of time and space.

LOCAL ARTISTS, ENGINEERS, DRAFTSMEN

FINE ARTS, advertising, and crafts are all presented in a positive way to the commercial and industrial art students at Holy Name.

The Christian approach to their art problems becomes second nature to these 50 boys and girls who pursue the four-year art course.

Below: Theresa Calussi, Ann Marie Hendricks, Paulette Velardo, Catherine Salli, seventh and eighth grade artists, become acquainted with papier mache, weaving and leatherwork in their Hobby Club.

APPRECIATE DIGNITY OF HONEST WORK

MECHANICAL drawing students study engineering, designing, blue print reading and its shop application.

The Industrial Art course is geared to give these boys a positive approach to Christian Social living in American Industrial society.

SALABLE SKILLS

REALIZING the need for Christian standards in the commercial field, Holy Name's commercial department strives to inculcate right business attitudes as well as correct techniques into future office workers

Making books balance and keeping acounts straight is all in a day's work for prospective accountants of Sister Rose Alma's bookkeeping classes.

ACQUIRED HERE

IN OFFICE practice classes, necessary basic fundamentals of the business world are taught.

Each student, during some phase of the course, works as an employee of a ficticious business concern, and is thus given actual experience in filling all types of office forms. Payday occurs regularly and salaries are determined by the accuracy and neatness of the student's work.

Center: Seniors Carol Jakubowski and Val Cerino run copy off the mimeograph machine.

Below: Betty Blatnik and Pat McNally using the ediphone machines, typing material previously recorded.

HOW TO MAKE A HOUSE A HOME . . .

HOME ECONOMICS classes train Holy Name boys and girls alike for one of the most important jobs Christian youth can have, that of building up Christian homes.

Coeds who learn to sew will be grateful a thousand times in the future that they acquired that womanly art. Boys and girls who elected home making or foods classes receive invaluable training in how to make a house a home.

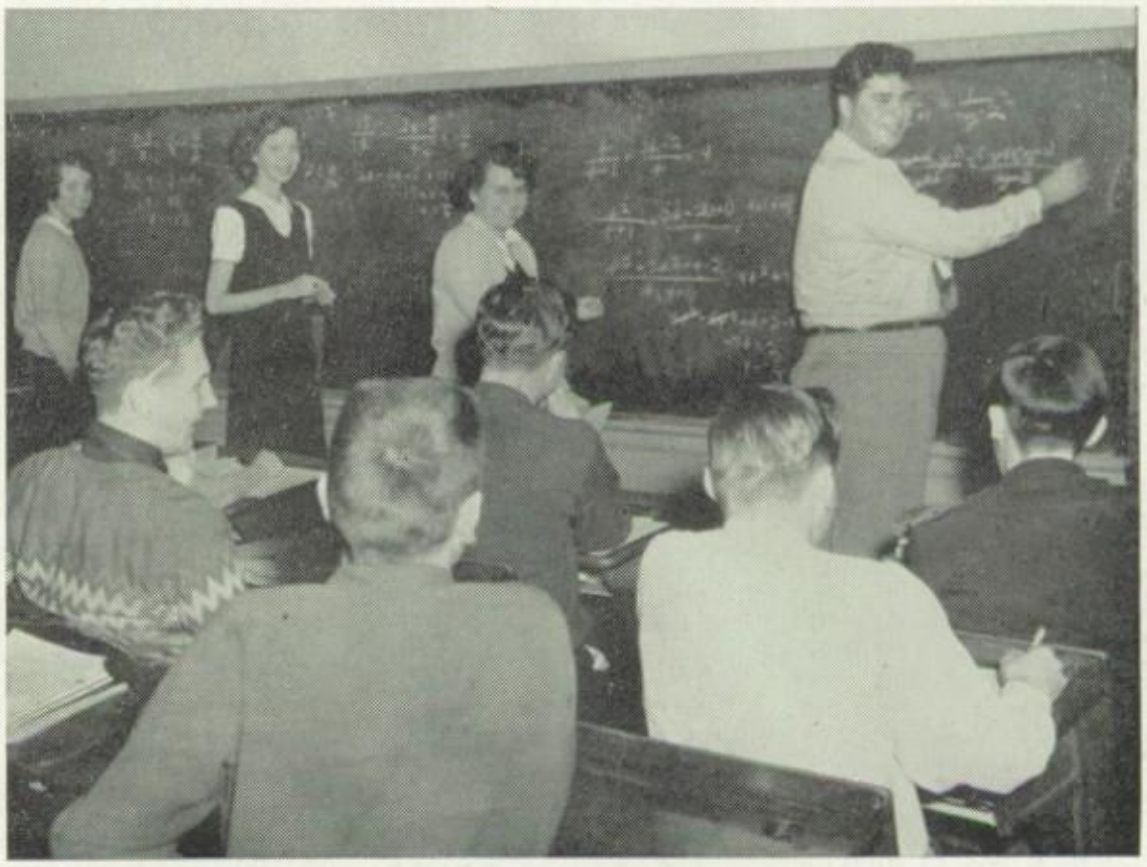
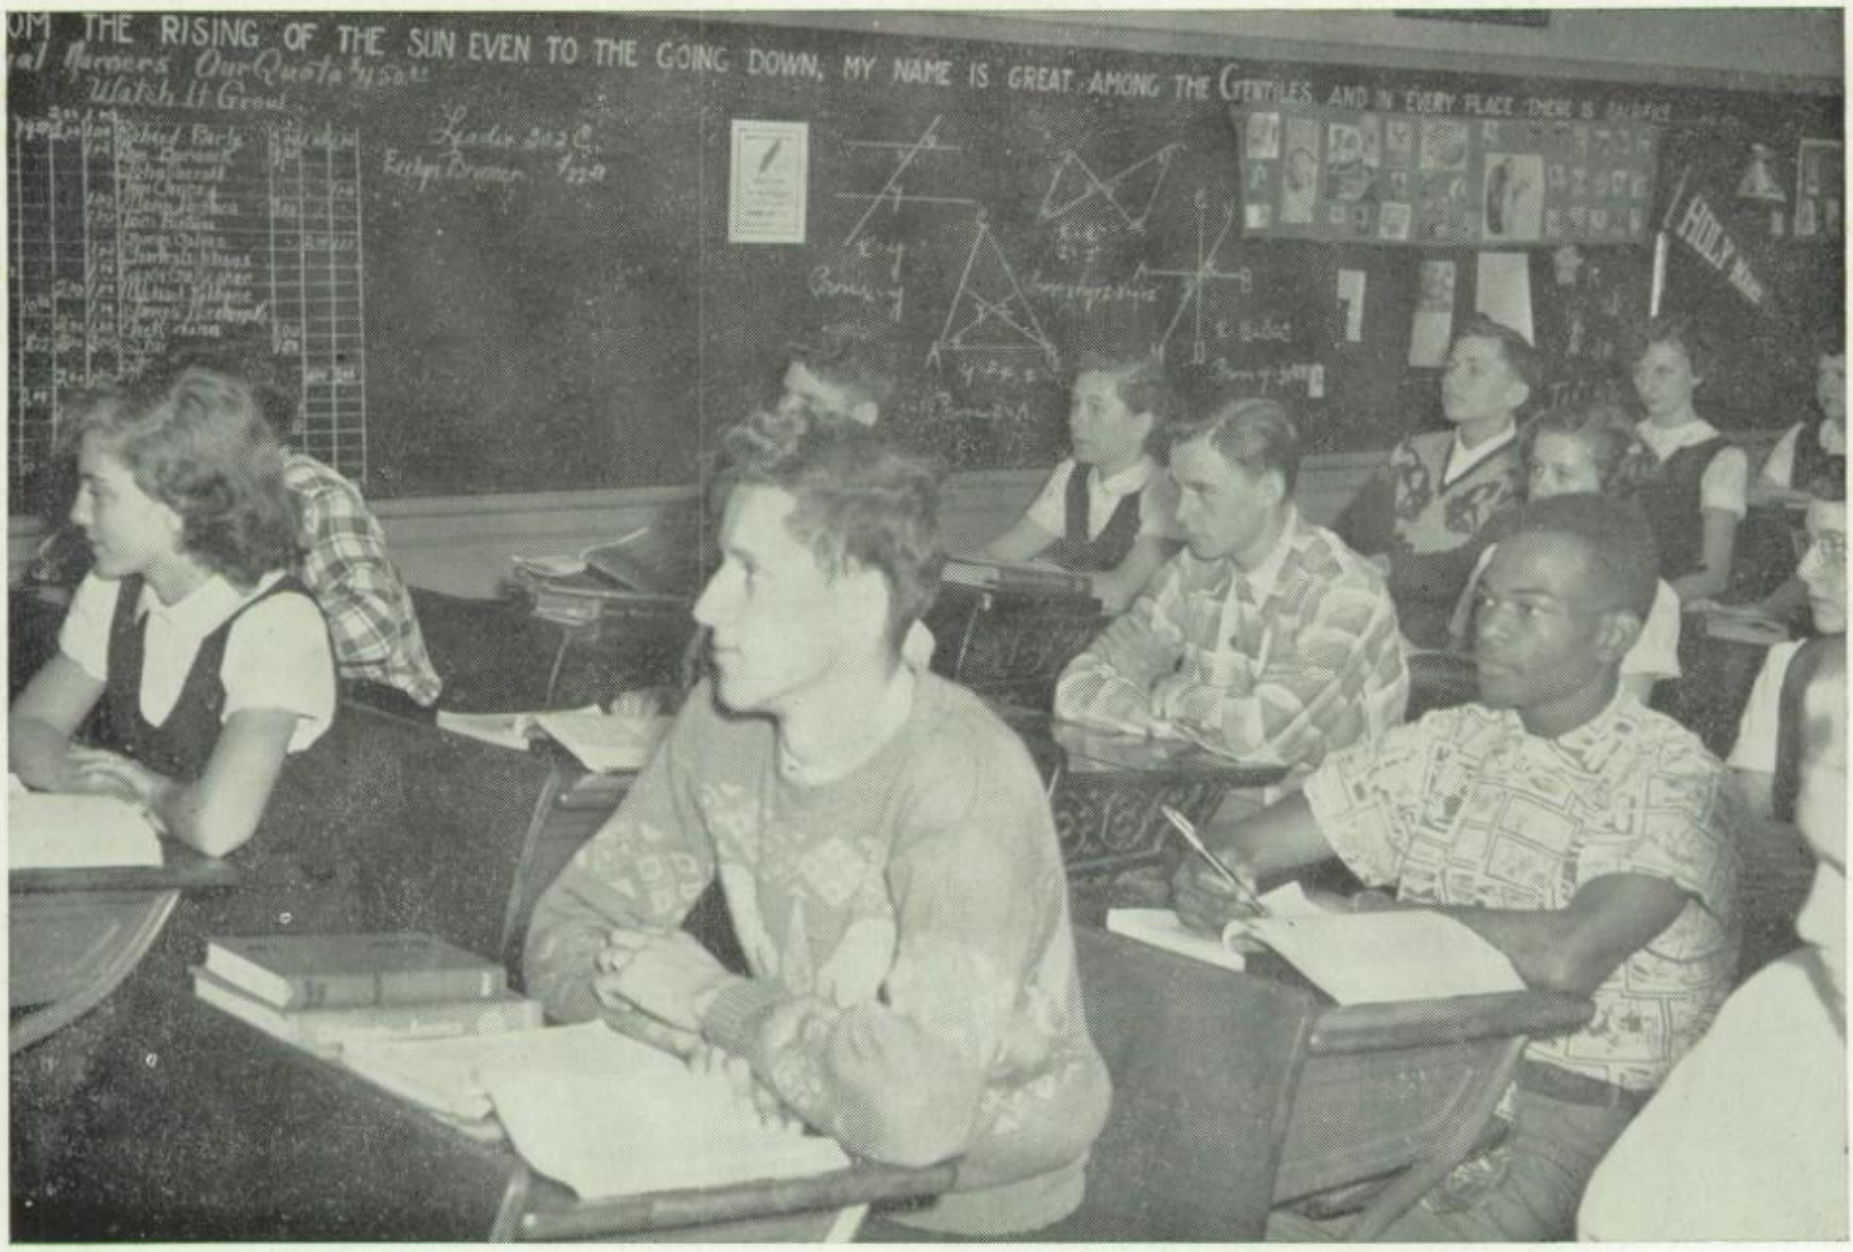
MATH FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

ARITHMETIC will always come in handy —for balancing budgets at home, making out sales checks at a store, or figuring out blue prints at the shop.

At the right, advanced students in Sister Maria Mateo's Algebra II class work on some fractional equations.

Shades of Archimedes! Below, Sister Jane's geometry students apply the theories of the great scholars to their work, looking as if they realize that plenty of thinking is needed to master propositions and explain constructions.





'52 SCIENCE CLASSES CONCENTRATE

TRUE SCIENCE leads minds to God, and enables them to appreciate and comprehend the universe. The Christian student is not afraid of scientific knowledge. He knows that no matter what be the subject the scientist pursues, it should eventually lead him to a greater reverence for "the First Cause," to Him who "hath done all things well."

Our Holy Name Heritage:

Namers learn to use their leisure in more ways than one. Emphasizing development -- mental, physical, social and spiritual — students are encouraged to spend their leisure hours in extra-curricular activities.

Sodalities, CSMC, Seton League and other organizations use their opportunities to make the world a little better, by devoting time and talent to the practice of Christian charity and zeal.

With the knowledge that sharing non-material gifts makes practice worth while, Band and Orchestra lift the hearts of Namers with their spirited rallies and programs, while the Glee Clubs, aside from the annual operetta, devote their time to preparing lilting melody-filled programs for festive occasions.

Besides these, "Mixers," banquets and balls help strengthen the HN spirit of fellowship, charity and friendship.

HN MISSIONERS

REACHING far into distant lands and hearts is Holy Name's Mission Club, which bubbles with enthusiasm and is filled with true Christian spirit, as is seen by a dozen different projects.

During the past year, pleas from priests and other missionaries, at home and abroad, have been answered by packages of books, magazines, clothes, vestments and money.

Under the direction of Sister Rose Alma, the local CSMS is divided into Junior and Senior groups.

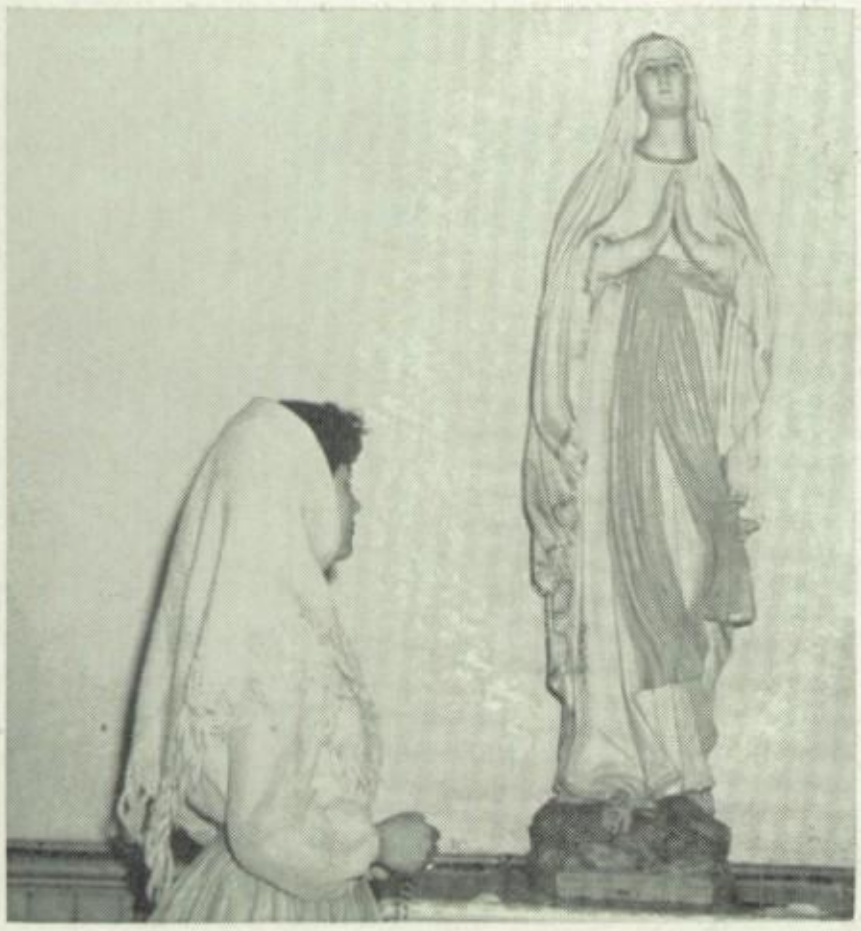
SETON LEAGUERS

THE ANNUAL DRAMATIC efforts of the Seton Leaguers were directed this year to "Song of Bernadette," which was successfully presented in March, with Bernadine George portraying Bernadette.



Top: Bernadine George (Bernadette) with the "Lady."

Right: Lucille Jones, Virginia Novak, Joanne Lowe set out for Rosemary Home.

CHOIR LENDS BEAUTY TO LITURGY

GRADE SCHOOL and Junior High Choir boys, under the direction of Sister Loretta Marie and Miss Josephine Scimica, organist, contribute to the spiritual life of the school and community. Each Sunday, at the high Mass, they may be heard singing God's praises at Holy Name Church. Above: The Choir sings carols at Midnight Mass, Christmas Eve.

Sister, the choir teacher and the boys work together adding to the beauty of the parish liturgy and preparing the Choristers for their participation in the Holy Sacrifice as adults.

ORCHESTRA, MELODY - MAKERS DE LUXE!

OPERETTAS and other programs would lose much of their flavor without the Orchestra accompaniment. Members of this fine organization do not consider the hours they practice a waste of time, realizing this experience will be of value to them in later life when their knowledge of music will be a source of pleasure to them and others.

Above, dressed in formal attire, is HN's Orchestra, ready for Sister Loretta Marie's word to lift their instruments and swing into melody to the delight of Namers.

SHARING IN PARISH ACTIVITIES TODAY

AMONG THOSE who literally serve God at the altar are HN's 100 acolytes.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Walter, these boys have braved early hours and driving weather for the honor of being a server.

Top: Servers leave the Sacristy before Monsignor McDonough's birthday Mass.

Bottom: Two of the tiniest of regular Holy Name servers, Tom Cozzens and Alan Hovan, are shown some of the vestments by Senior Servers Howard Behm, Francis Houdek and Joseph Putka.

Other veteran servers are Jerome Waskowski, Ronald Olesiak, William Zergott, Hugh Hagberg, Harold Murphy, Edward Schirra, and Gerald Donovan.

BUILDS PARISH LOYALTY FOR TOMORROW

THE BLESSED Virgin Sodality, under the guidance of Sister Angela Mary, plans and sponsors school activities calculated to further devotion to Mary.

Top: Preparing flowers for the all-school May Crowning are Sophomores Carolyn Pupenka, Sue Wahl, Mary Prize, and Dorothy O'Connor, and Senior Marjorie Tatarko.

Below: Officers for the year arrange tables for the annual Communion Breakfast. They are Sarah Gavan, Janet Witter, and Theresa Zima.

Every second Sunday of the month the men of the parish honor the "Holy Name of Jesus."

Under the direction of Father Francis Osborne the Holy Name Society is fast on its way to becoming one of the outstanding parish organizations.

600 NAMERS ENROLLED IN GLEE CLUBS

THE THREE Glee Clubs, under the direction of Sister Loretta Marie, honor St. Cecilia, at the annual musicals on her feast day. Top to bottom are Grades XI, XII, and X, respectively.

MAKE HAPPY HOURS HAPPIER WITH SONG

Our Holy Name Heritage:

It's a touchdown, a home run, a basket! It's spirit, loyalty, and fellowship every-time HN takes the field, floor or diamond, and whether they win or lose, they can hold their heads high, because it was a good game, a fair game.

Interscholastic sports hold a top place in the activities of the student world to-day. That Little Davids enjoy playing the game themselves as well as following the Varsity, is seen by the many Namers who crowd "the empty lot" and the Gym when intramurals or East Side-West Side games are in progress.

HN's sports teach lessons learned no other way, for not only physical development but self-sacrifice, honesty, justice and respect for self and others are unforgetably instilled by competitive sports.

Loyalty and spirit have been symbolic of Namers for years, thanks to the men behind the scenes, to priests, teachers, Sisters, and coaching staffs, who through the decades have built HN teams with the accent on spirit rather than on score.

WHAT GIVES ZEST TO HN SPORTS?

DEFYING OD MAN WEATHER each time the Big Green takes to the Gridiron, is the chore of HN's marching musicians, who despite rain, sleet, or snow, are always on the spot with amusing arrangements and clever formations.

The Band offers campus music lovers entertainment at the Band Concert and other programs, and bucks inter-city competition in the Annual Charity Football Game.

Below are Senior members who will leave in June after four or more years with the Band. Director Robert Pattie is at the right. Seniors are Virginia Green, Donna Kollar, Sally Barnovsky, Bernard Madej.

TRADITIONAL MORALE BUILDERS,

CHIEF BOOSTER-UPPERS of HN athletics are the weekly rallies. What talent comes to light during those hilarious performances! And what a friendly spirit of give and take they engender!

IN GREEN WAVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Father James Hughes

As manager of HN athletics, Father has a big job, which he takes seriously, and does well.

"AW, COME ON, you guys! Give with some noise!" was a frequent plea throughout Lil' David's athletic season this year.

HN's men of jump and joy, the cheerleaders, are always a source of spirit.

Father Hughes manages the Green Wave Jumping Jacks.

Having looked after their interests for the past two seasons, Father says that he looks forward to many more years of engineering the men of green and white satin fame.

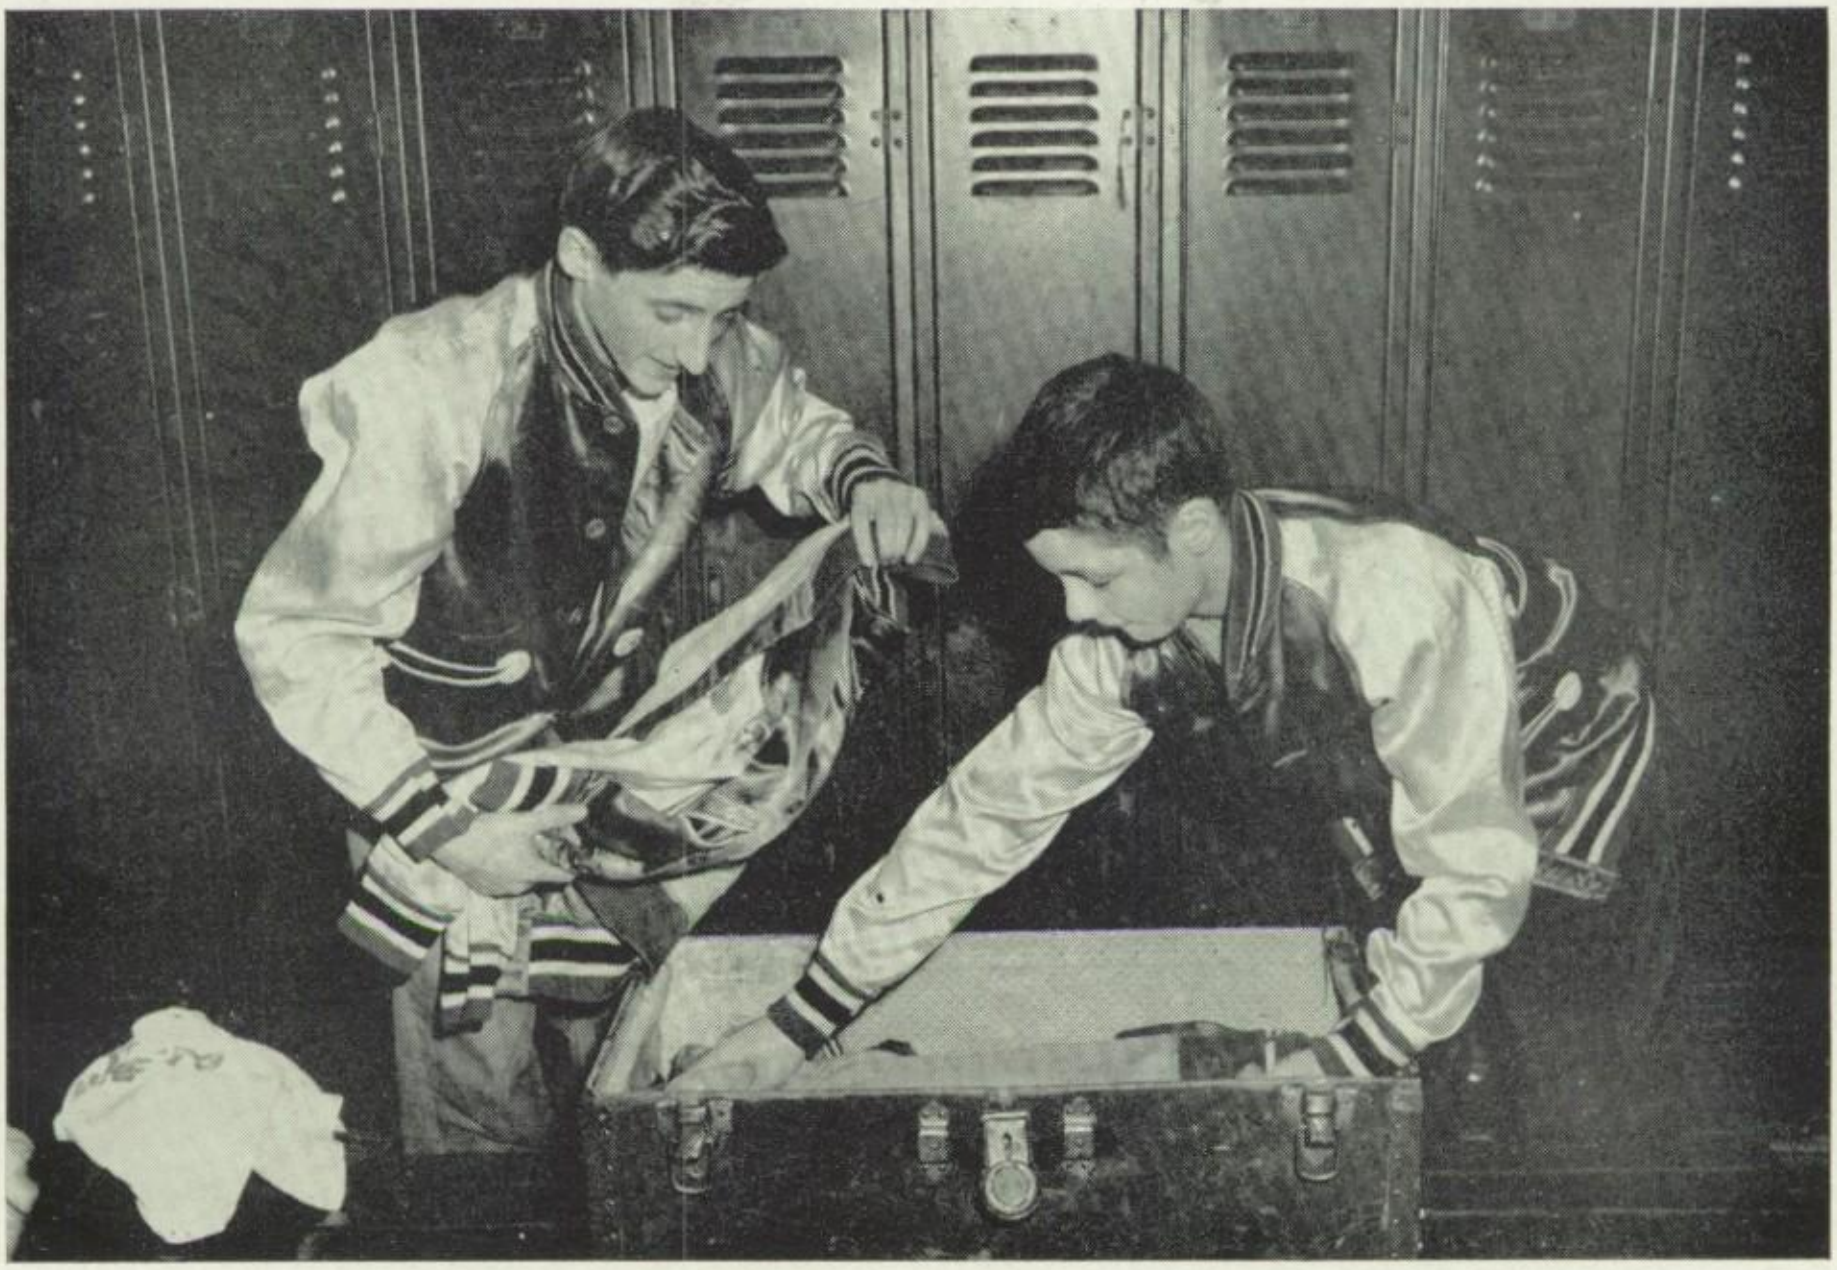
HERE'S THE COMBINE BACK STAGE



TIME OUT! And HN's student managers sprint onto the fields, carrying towels and first aid kits. Whenever the team is practicing or playing these loyal boys are always at the team's side.

GRIDIRON SAGA

In a pre-Senate clash with the East Senate defending champs, the Benedictine Bengals, Lil' David displayed hopeful backfield power, sparked by a charging forward wall.

After dropping the Senate opener to the Lincoln eleven, 13-7, the revengful Big Green rolled up three spirited tallies to down the West High Cowboys.

A nerve-shattering 14-7 victory went to Rhodes High, although the Green Wave led the undefeated Rams for three quarters.

TOLD IN BRIEF

The Latin Lions invaded John Adams Field, and proceeded to a 20-7 triumph. Victory-hungry John Marshall Lawyers added a 7-6 defeat to Lil' David's headaches.

With high spirit, and determined to retain possession of the Pig Iron Trophy, HN grounded the South High Flyers to the tune of 31-6, topped off by a 105 yard TD jaunt by Junior Dick Coutler.

St. Ignatius closed the Green Wave's '51 gridiron season with a close 12-6 defeat.

HOOP SEASON

STARTING OFF with three in a row and finishing fast seemed to be HN's only consolation for the Leskomen as they were slowly pushed to the cellar in the Senate Basketball rush.

Although having a fast breaking team, Lil' David found himself at a very obvious height d'sadvantage all season.

BOWING to only four opponents, the Jayvees made the mistake of letting three of these be Senate games. Above Leroy (Peanuts) Perkins and Bill Gartland score against Warren.

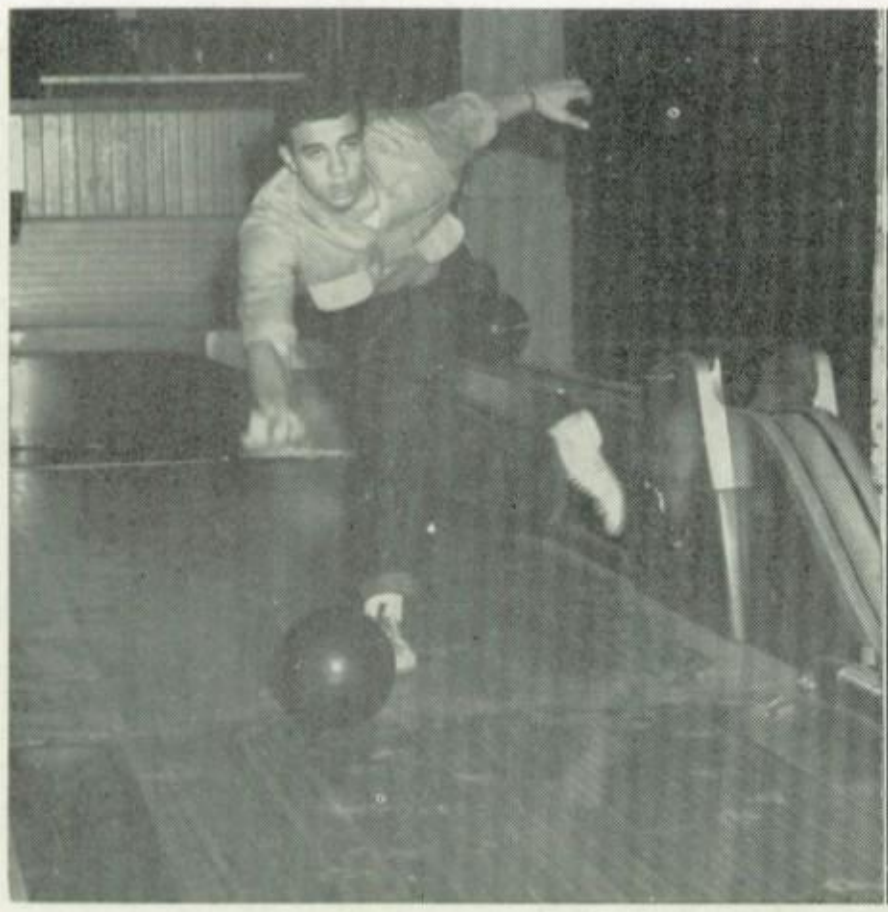
HERE'S a preview of HN's future Varsity stars. Coached by Bill Velavic, these Freshies were praised for their team morale and spirit.

GYM CLASSES AIM AT VIGOR, GRACE

ALTHOUGH only a few musclemen make the various Varsity teams, every boy at Holy Name has an opportunity to develop physical fitness in Mr. Lesko's gym classes. Above: A typical class.

TUMBLING, ball games, gymnastics are on the coeds' gym agenda for this year. Above, the girls scamper for the ball.

BOWLING WINS LOCAL ENTHUSIASTS



A ROOKIE in the field of major sports at HN, bowling has taken its toll on the students. Introducing it to the school was Father Hughes' privilege; Coach Edward Heglaw took over as team faculty sponsor.

GYM LEADERS SHARE DUTIES, FUN

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES supplement the major aim of the Gym Leaders, that of assisting in the direction of girls' gym classes.

Thirty-six coeds, under the guidance of Miss Jeanne Dreisig, find in the GL Club what HN boys have in their bowling league: physical activity and fun. They hold regular meetings, sponsor local dances, and enjoy picnics and outings.

WITH THE IRISH ON THE DIAMOND

HERE'S THE PITCH—it's going . . . going, . . . it s gone! It's a home run!"

Yes, these words mean only one thing—baseball, America's favorite sport, is again in the spotlight. And as Spring arrives Holy Name begins preparations for its diamond season.

Although it does not get the attention from the students which o t h e r more seasonal, major sports rate, Holy Name's baseball is always r a n k e d high in the West Senate League.

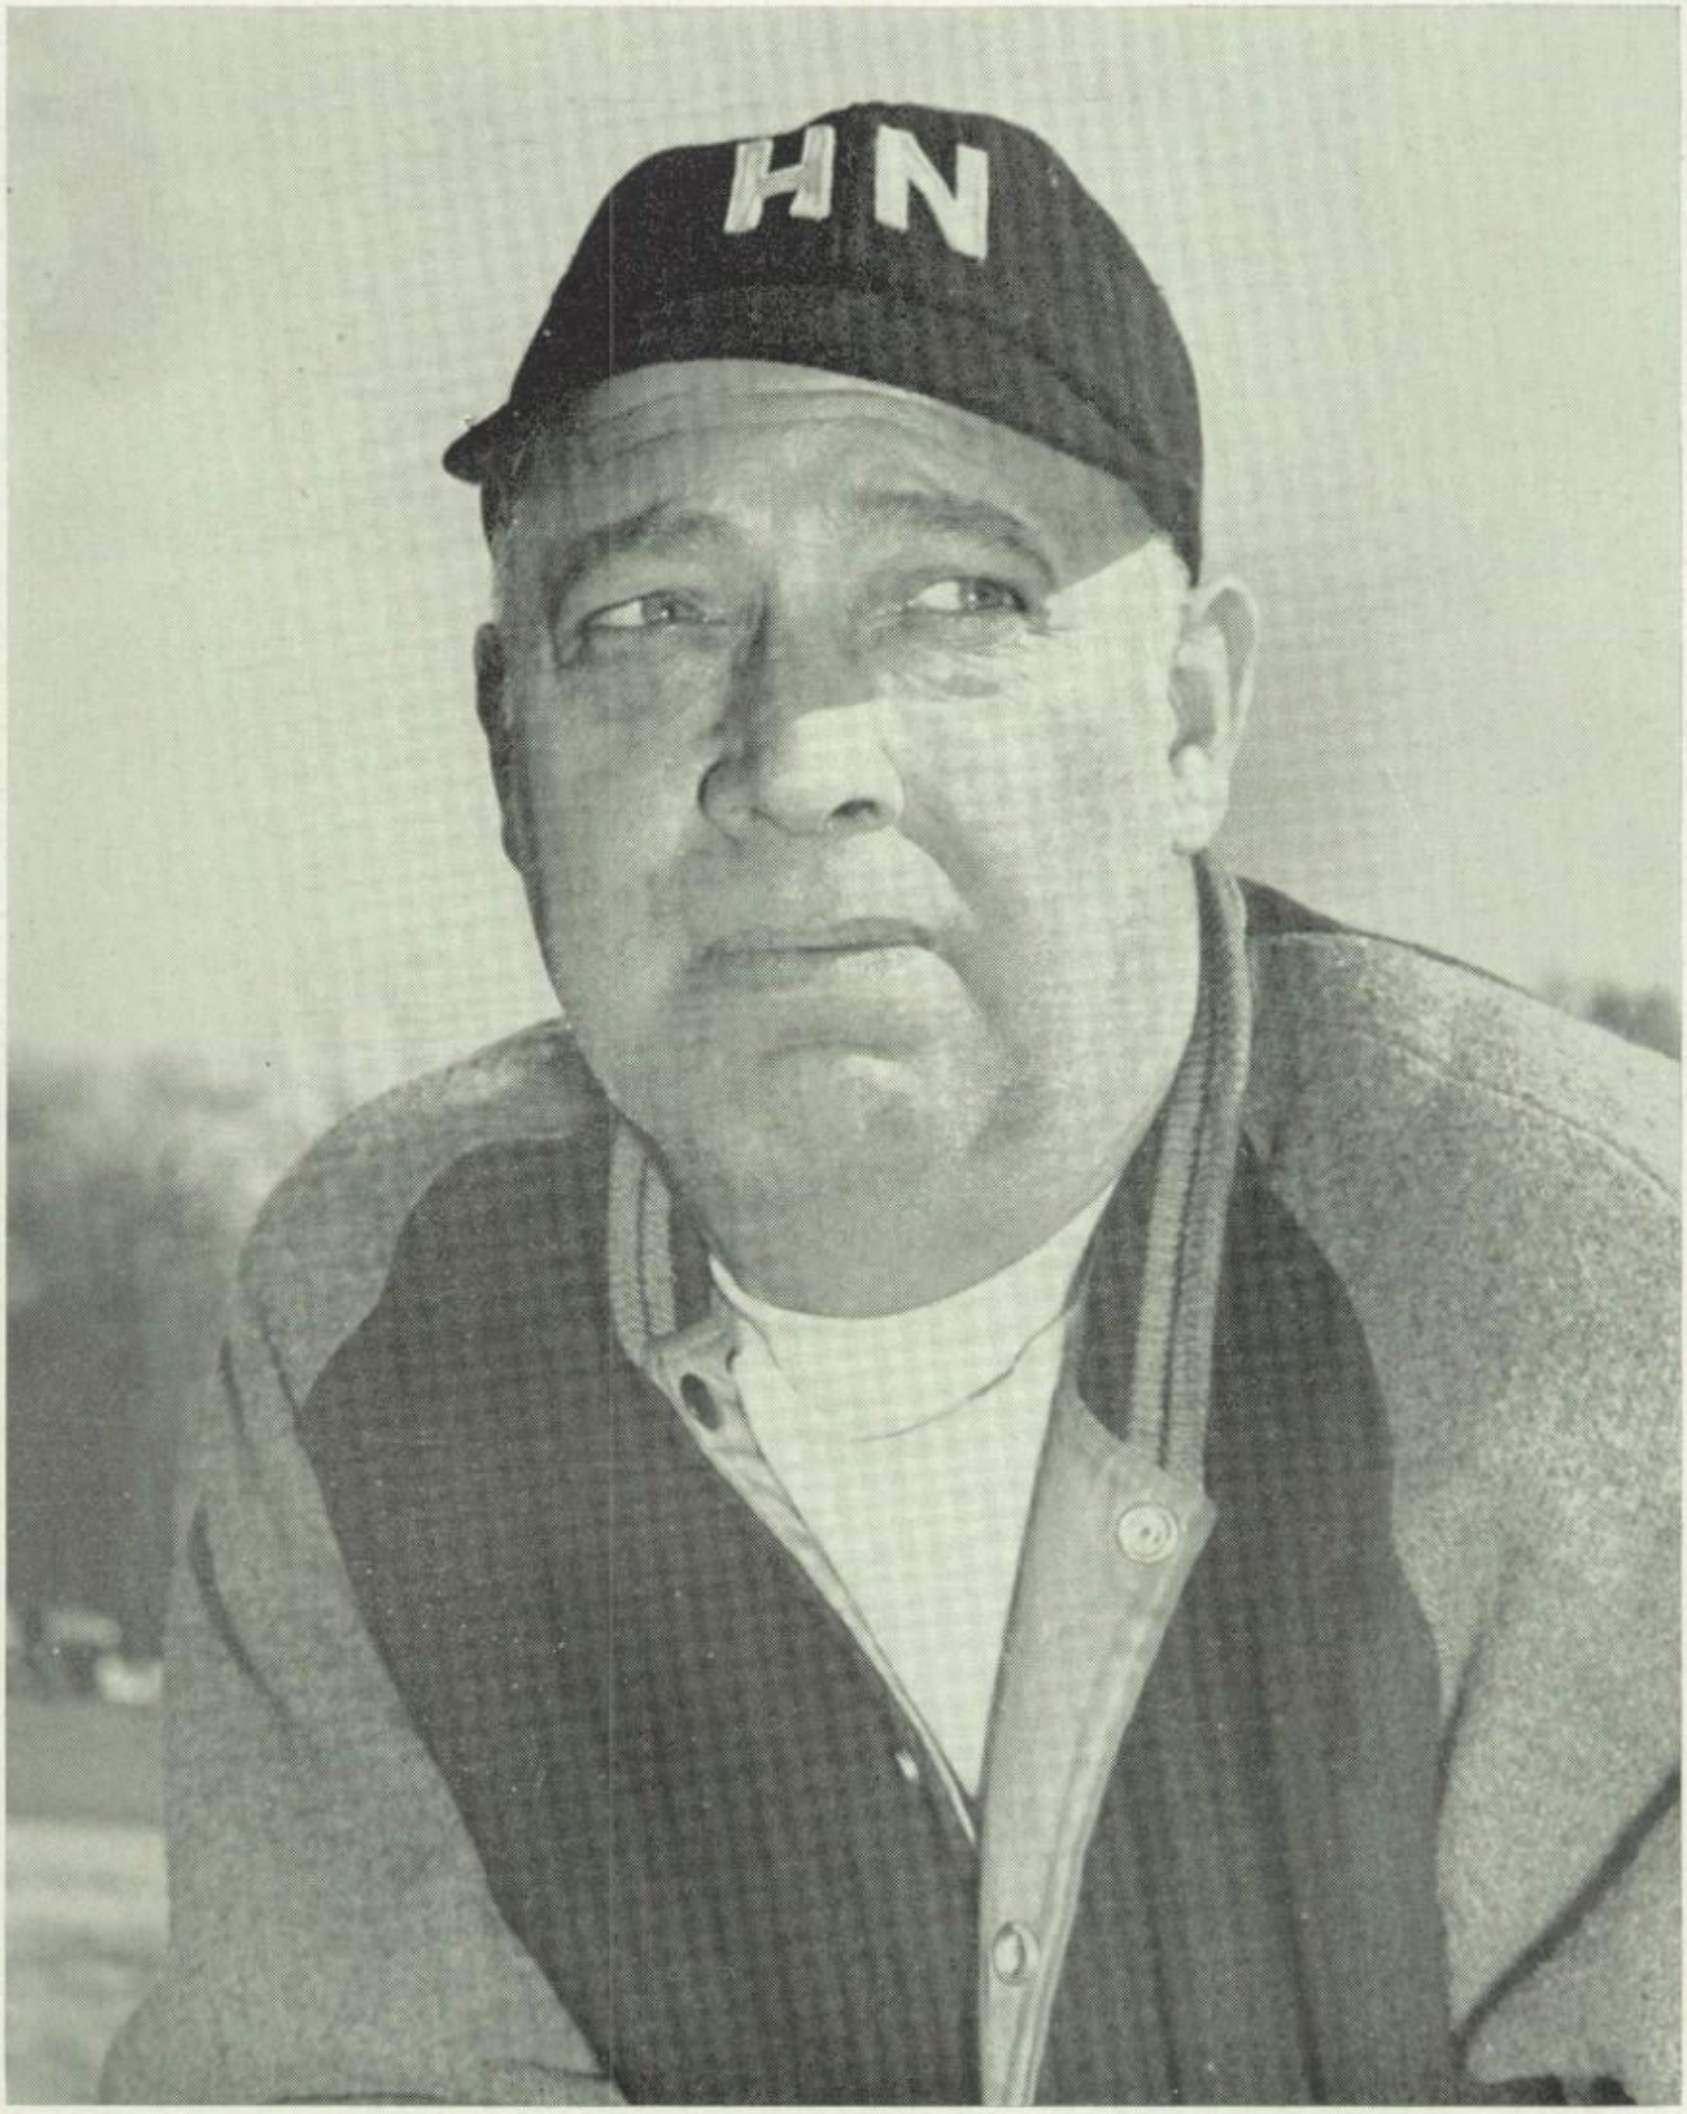
HOW ABOUT A CHEER FOR FRANK?



COACH FRANK RIESSINGER

'MORE FUN, MORE PEOPLE KILLED!'

"HE WAS OUT of bounds!"
"He was not! How can you tell? There aren't any boundary lines." Twenty years from now students will still grin to hear those echoes which came from Brookside Stadium late in the Fall of '51, when the Seniors of the East Side took on the West Side eleven in the annual Brawl Game.

ABOVE, the East Side "Cool Cats" slid to an early 12-0 lead, but were set back by a slushy six pointer, tallied by the mighty West, late in the third or fourth quarter.

The East End of town retaliated and trampled through the goal post for the final mark of the conflict.

Score? East, 18; West, 6.

A FINAL WORD FROM YE EDITORS

Below: Sports Editor Ron Hrovat holds forth on HN's sports writing policy to Pitcher Paul Bender (second from left,) while boys in Ron's department listen in.

"Here's my creed," says Ron. "Get the facts, and tell them, whether they be good, bad, or indifferent. Don't forget the little guy. Give acknowledgement w h e r e it's due, whether it be to captain or water boy. Don't make excuses, and when you're passing out orchids don't forget your opponents.

"This isn't always easy, particularly when HN is having a l o s i n g streak. But it's Christian."

If readers understand Ron's policy, they understand all that the '52 NAMER has tried to accomplish.

A Postscript

WHAT IS THIS heritage, the theme of which has run like a ribbon through the pages of our '52 Namer? As we said in the Foreword, it is our holy Faith, first of all: deep, loving, unquestioning. Our tender devotion to our Lady is likewise surely a Holy Name heritage, and our trust in prayer.

Part of our heritage is practical—the preparation for vocations and avocations; and part is cultural and social—our appreciation of the beautiful and true, and our charity, which gives Christ to others and finds Him in them, too.

But a final portion of our heritage, and a precious portion it is, at that, is composed of memories of our school days. In this postscript you'll find pictures which will always remind you of the days when you were a Namer, back in '52.

HAPPY MEMORIES

CO-EDS will always remember the nights of the Athletic, Christmas and Military Balls, and the Prom, when they stepped from a world of reality into a land of make believe.

Wonderful memories of these dances will be treasured long after we are out of school. Every upperclassman agrees that he or she wouldn't have missed a single social for anything.

Real Namers pray and work together, but they find it fun to play together.

Left:
They triple-dated for the Annual Christmas Ball.

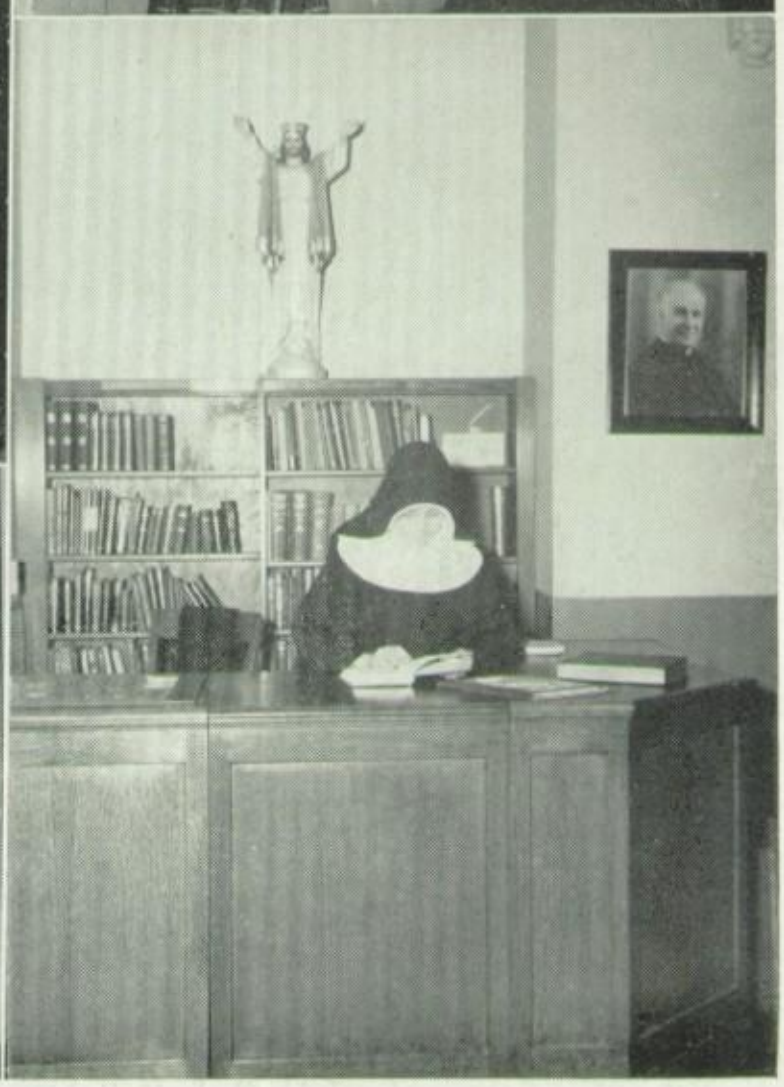
OF DANCES, BALLS, THE PROM

Below: Informal fun at a '52 school "Mixer."

CLASSES WEREN'T ALL WORK, EITHER



CLEAR in the memories of all of us are the dozens of interesting activities connected with classes.

Bottom: Ann Clair Moser and Richard McNally decorate a bulletin board.

Top, right: Young Namers hesitate for a moment in the midst of a Junior High arithmetic contest.

Bottom, right: Long to be remembered is the familiar sight of Sister Thomas Aquinas, checking books in beautiful ScullenLibrary.

AS WE'LL REMEMBER IN YEARS TO COME

WHO WILL EVER FORGET the many tax stamp drives and contests? Above, left: Elementary girls eagerly sort and count their rooms' supply.

Center, left: Reporters Mary Widmar and Janet Hastings, St. Peter's High, and Loretta McDonnell, Holy Name, interview Right Reverend Monsignor Clarence Elwell, Superintendent of Schools, for the Student Voice, a publication edited by journalists of the diocesan schools. Bottom, left: The long awaited change of class: chance to have that brief aside we've been perishing to relay.

THRILLS, SPILLS, AND TENSE MOMENTS

TWENTY YEARS from now, we'll still remember these moments, won't we?

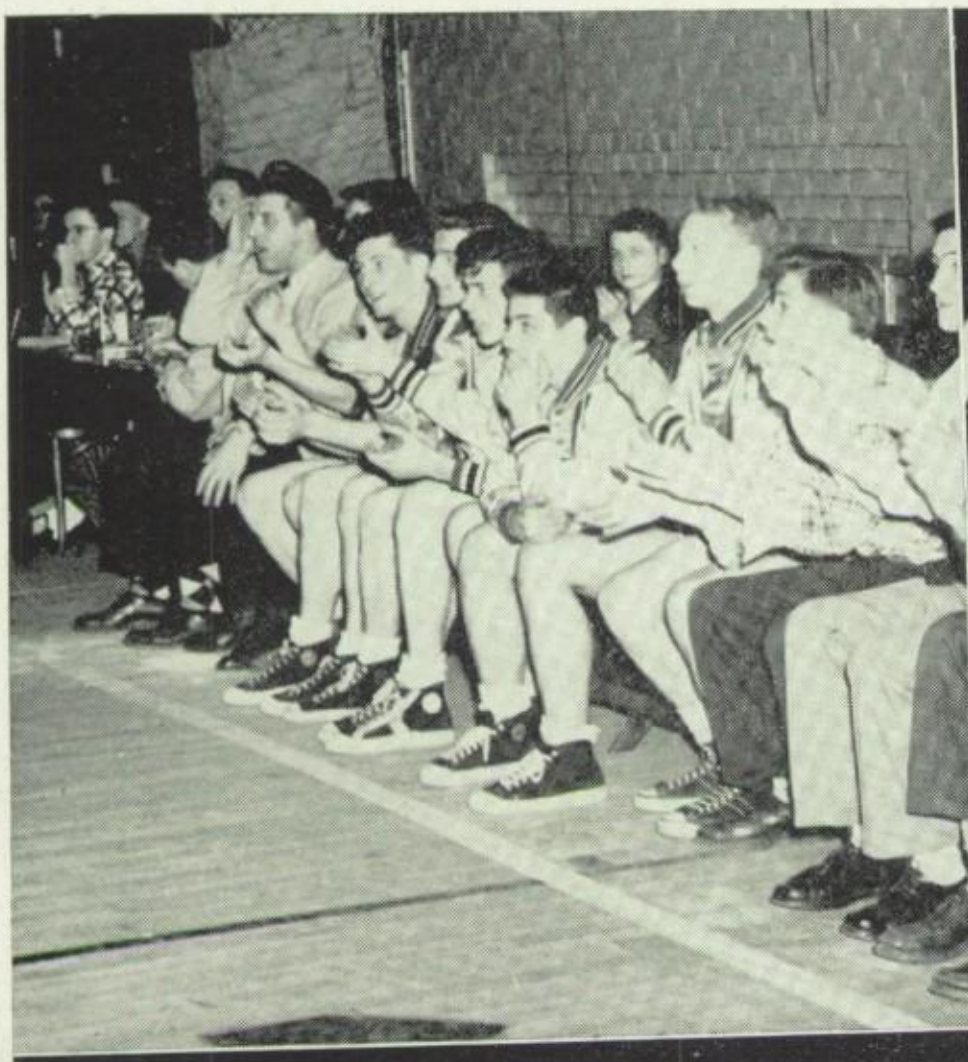
CAUGHT BY HN'S ALERT CAMERAMAN



THE CAMERA preserves undying memories of the Green Wave's accomplishments.

Top, left: HN's jurymen, Coach Joe Lesko, Bill Telzrow, Joe Cooke, Tom McCarthy, Jim Hearns, Jim Coleman, and George Neuman, vary the verdict with expressions of joy, dismay, and deep concentration.

Top, right: Senior Tom McCarthy fires a foul shot as George Neuman (20) and Jim Coleman (22) watch eagerly.

Bottom, left: Safetymen Don Hicar '52, and Chuck Kriak '53, team up to d o w n an intended pass.

Bottom, right: A moment of triumph is caught after Lil' David's opening victory over Warren, as players and spectators mob the coaches in sincere appreciation.

THESE ARE THE NAMERS WHO GAVE YOU

ORCHIDS to the workers who made a dream materialize into your '52 book! Top, left: Gerry Stibil, responsible for getting the ads in order and keeping the ad copy straight for two years.

Center, top: Checking the progress made by Staff members, who brought in 1/3 of the $5000 total, are an unidentified co-ed and Sophomore Joann Nakel. Top, right: Pat Fink, who wrote at least half of the copy for both the '51 and '52 Namers. Second row, left: Bob Lenz, sports assistant.

Center: Three Sophomores (Joan Bart, Mary Lee Cohara, and Carolyn Onders) who helped Sister Vincent De Paul in the task of reaping the harvest of ads, patrons and boosters. Second row, right: John Nagel, mimeographer deluxe!

THIS BOOKFUL OF MEMORIES TO KEEP!

Center: Peggy McGinty, Namer business manager in '51 and '52, is a genius for organization and has year book credits at her finger tips. Rose Annette Powell, '53 editor elect, works with her here. Top, right: Tall, obliging Mike Turnauckas, who plays with bears and tigers in his sparetime, planned and took most of the pictures in the book, doing his own developing, enlarging and printing.

Bottom: Pat Coyle, center of the group, deserves a gold medal if anyone does. Pat is always banging away at the typewriter long after others are gone, to get stories ready for the printer's deadlines.

Phyllis Yeskulsky, left, and Mary Norton, right, co-editors of the '52 book, who designed layouts last summer, and have been on the job ever since.
